

The Dialogue Center (Chaplain's Office), Jewish Student Center,
Newman Center, Department of Religion Studies, The Department of Political Science, and The Environmental Initiative present...

RELIGION AND THE ENVIRONMENT

A panel discussion focused on the role of religion in advancing issues of ecological concern. Special attention will be given to the impact of Pope Francis' Laudato Si', the first encyclical ever dedicated specifically to the environment.

PANELISTS

Ken Kraft, Professor Emeritus, Religion Studies

Al Wurth, Associate Professor, Political Science, Environmental Initiative

Delicia Nahman, Lehigh Sustainability Officer

Rev. Allen Hoffa, Catholic Chaplain and Director, Newman Center

Rabbi Danielle Stillman, Associate Chaplain and Director, Jewish Student Life

MODERATOR

Lloyd Steffen, Professor, Religion Studies and University Chaplain

Wednesday, October 7th | 4:10pm

Linderman Library - Room 200

ALL ARE WELCOME | A FIRST YEAR EXPERIENCE, 5 X 10: INCLUSIVE LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

